Thursday, September 1, 2022

Fertilizer Derivatives End of Day Report

FUTURES MARKET COMMENTARY

NOLA UREA: Thin markets today. What to say expect it's just thin times ahead of the holiday weekend going into a next week where the Indian tender is wrapping up, not a lot driving the market right now in NOLA it feels like. Will see if tomorrow gets more active but guessing we'll see more activity when we come back from Labor Day in the U.S. DAP is firming with $765 last done for SEPT and UAN seems to continue to trend higher with many guessing the price in the gulf will be out above $500 pretty soon with the high in the index already being pretty close to that.

INTL: In the INTL market we saw some early morning activity with Brazil SEP trading at 743. Later in the day SEP traded up at 740 for 3kt. We saw offers around there on the follow and couldn't find any bids. AG Urea traded at 775 for Q4. Dutch TTF reversed some of its previous days falls and climbed slightly throughout the day. The market seemed to have strong amounts of interest throughout the day, but there was a lack of firm numbers as many seemed uncertain on the next direction of the market.

0 0 0

0 0 0

△ -20 -10 -10 -7

0

NOLA UREA
BID ASK MID $\Delta$
SEP 680 690 685 🔽 -3	SEP
DCT 685 695 690 -15	ОСТ
NOV 690 705 698 🔽 -8	NOV
Q4 690 705 698 8	Q4
Q1 705 715 710 -10
NOLA UAN
BID ASK MID $\Delta$
SEP 500 510 505 🛆 5	SEP
DCT 520 530 525 🛆 3	ОСТ
NOV 520 530 525 🛆 3	NOV
Q4 525 535 530 🛆 8	Q 4
NOLA DAP BID ASK MID $\triangle$	SEP
OCT 752 762 757 🛆 10	OCT NOV

Instruments please contact the team at ferts@freightinvestor.com

 Taylor Eastman (US):
 +1 913 246 3580

 FIS USA (US):
 +1 913 276 4154

 FIS London (UK):
 +44 (0) 7889 720 076