Market Commentary / Recent Trades

Iron ore opened this morning at the session's high of $138.30 and plummeted through the session to hit lows of $136.95. The morning closed at $138.05. In the afternoon, iron ore opened at $137.80 and fluctuated to highs of $138.45 and lows of $137.30 before closing at $137.70. We saw Feb/Apr trade in decent sizes this morning. Lots of Q1 interest as well in size, with prices fluctuating between $137.10 and $137.60. In the afternoon, we saw more Q2 interest, with outright trading between $132.50 and $133.75 in decent size. Feb/Mar spreads also tightened through the day from $1.50/1.55 to $1.45/1.50. Q2/Q3 interest was also seen in the evening, trading at $4.85. China's Dalian Commodity Exchange (DCE) has excluded iron ore, coking coal and coke from its latest waivers on commission fees, a move that could be targeted at reining speculation and drastic price volatility.
