Market Commentary

Steel Scrap

- Turkish deepsea HMS 1/2 (80:20) held at $350/mt CFR (w/w -$1.5/mt) mills covered with November tonnage and showing little appetite to chase cargo- sentiment remains flat amid limited trade.
- Turkish Rebar & Exports – Rebar steady at $540/mt FOB weak domestic demand and sluggish MENA/EU orders keep mills cautious and limit billet and scrap pull.
- Europe/US – Elevated freight and costly EU Carbon collections squeeze margins, with US sellers favouring Egypt and Morocco over Turkey.

Physical / FFA

- Supramax: Rates slipped again, with S4A_63 down $2,461 to $24,993/day and the 11TC off $687 at $16,966/day, as weak US Gulf demand and thin South Atlantic enquiry kept tonnage stacking up.
- Handysize: Another softer week saw HS4_38 fall $1,636 to $21,900/day and the 7TC ease $390 to $15,522/day, as Atlantic supply outpaced limited fresh cargo flow.
