Market Commentary / Recent Trades

The Singapore morning session opened at $102.15, which also marked the session low. Prices then climbed steadily to a high of $103.40 before closing at $103.05. Activity was limited during the morning session. January outright was reported trading at $103.30 in 50kt, while March traded in the $101.65–$101.75 range, also in 50kt. Spreads remained unchanged.

Trading stayed muted as the afternoon session resumed. Dec/Feb traded at $4.00 in 120kt, and May outright was seen in the $100.90–$101.00 range in 110kt. Interest in the Dec/Jan spread persisted from last Friday, with the spread trading at $3.325 in 100kt, reflecting stronger selling interest compared with its $3.35 indications.

Last week, the number of construction-steel production lines under maintenance rose by four to 11 w/w, indicating a broader scale of planned shutdowns. Meanwhile, only six lines resumed operations—three fewer than the previous week—signalling a clear slowdown in restarts. Overall, these developments point to a modest tightening in construction-steel supply.
