Fortescue Ltd is reportedly nearing a supply agreement with China Mineral Resources Group, China's state-backed iron ore purchasing entity, according to people familiar with the discussions. The miner is expected to conclude a longer-term settlement with CMRG in the coming months and is currently operating under short-term arrangements that have been repeatedly extended. Negotiations between mining companies and CMRG have focused on several key issues, particularly pricing benchmarks, with Fortescue continuing to reference indices such as the Mysteel index and the Argus Iron Ore Index for its iron ore products.
